our employee value proposition

Are you a forward-thinker? Are you passionate about creating a brighter future for all? Are you full of ideas on how to better utilise power, water and data? If so, Altogether could just be the place for you.

Working alongside government, clients and customers, you have the opportunity to play an influential role in delivering ethical, sustainable solutions for communities and their residents – making positive change with real impact.

So what's it like working at Altogether?

Open & Innovative Culture

Here, we take a refreshing and diverse approach to culture. We understand the power of brilliant ideas. It's what drives us. By prioritising collaboration and championing forethought, together we can solve some of the planet's most pressing issues. We're looking for pioneers and creators, people who are eager to make a difference.

Human Development

It's not about former glories or fancy CVs. If you're a good human being and brimming with potential we will provide you with an opportunity. One where you're able to craft a unique career path, supported by a range of initiatives including transformational eLearning, mentoring and professional development.

Respectful & Flexible Workplaces

Over the years, the idea of the office has shifted dramatically and we've shifted with it with technology and systems adapting to individual needs.

There is life outside of work. We understand that. Your wellbeing is of the utmost importance and is key to producing consistently great work. From our Wellbeing Day to health discounts and transformational parental leave, we place the emotional and physical wellness of our staff above all.

Directly Impact Communities

At Altogether, we're not just going through the motions. What we do here matters. Working here, you'll make a direct and lasting impact on the quality of life of people all across Australia. It's about creating a better future for communities – an ambition you'll feel driven to achieve each and every day.
