changes in pricing

Our prices are subject to change. If we change our prices, we will let you know as soon as practicable and, in any event, no later than our first bill for the services we supply from the date the change takes effect or otherwise in accordance with any applicable laws and codes.

Prices for drinking water and recycled water usage will go up when Sydney Water applies 'drought' pricing. Drought pricing is applied if dam levels drop below 60% and will stop applying after dam levels recover to above 70%. This change can occur during a billing period and will apply from the day that Sydney Water applies 'drought' pricing until it stops applying drought pricing.

The Independent Pricing and Regulatory Tribunal (IPART) determines water and wastewater pricing for Sydney Water, Hunter Water and local councils. Whilst IPART does not determine water and wastewater prices for private water and wastewater utilities, changes to Sydney Water and Hunter Water charges throughout the year will impact Altogether's fees and charges.

Altogether is committed to offering our customers a premium service that is sustainable, with pricing that encourages best practice household behaviour. We thank you for embracing our recycled water service to help ensure Australia's sustainable future.
